

Keith Yu (6D)

Good morning, I am Keith Yu from class 6D. It was and is still my pleasure to be the one of the members of red house for six years and the house captain of red house last year. Organizing activities is certainly not a simple task, but with my teammates, the house committees, we overcome all of the obstacles. So I would like to thank their kind assistance indeed before I start my speech.

Well, as I just mentioned, some complex events like the sports day and inter-house drama competition were challenging for us to organize. We had to spend a lot of time to prepare the props, rundown, cooperation, etc. What I found is that good inter-house and intra-house communication and the skill of breaking goals into smaller chunks are the vital ingredients to hold an event successfully.

Notwithstanding the fact that the result last year was not that satisfactory, none of us regretted because we engaged in the games and we trusted red house members keep improving. I believe engaging in house activities and sacrificing something for your own house instead of working for others' appreciation.

Last but not least, I hope no matter you are from red, yellow, green or blue house, try to do something for your house and the sense of belonging will arise spontaneously. This feeling is amazing, and it would definitely be one of your most memorable experience in your secondary school life. Thank you.
